DO NOT MISS THIS NEW ADDITION TO PRIEST LAKE'S LINEUP OF RESTAURANTS – SUNDANCE MOUNTAIN LODGE

Just 25 minutes from downtown Priest Lake, your first visit to SUNDANCE MOUNTAIN LODGE is guaranteed to make your jaw drop. Nestled into the forest, overlooking Chase Lake.

A tour of the structure displayed a series of 10 elegantly decorated rooms, each with its own style. There are cutting edge meeting rooms for conferences, weddings or events. The restaurant is in a great-room atmosphere with kitchen in full view.

The atmosphere, style and elegance will surprise you, so get it on your list of things to see and do.

Owner/operator Tony Wallace and Steve King began putting their dream creation together 8 years ago when they acquired the 160 acres. Their hard work and dedication to the vision has really paid off - and we are the beneficiaries.

HOW TO GET THERE - Turn onto E Shore Road / Dickensheet Road. Turn right onto Substation Loop. Turn right onto Eastside Road. Turn Left onto Lost Creek Road. Follow signs to Sundance Mt. Lodge.

Find Sundance Mt. Lodge in www.priestlakemap.com under resorts, or at www.sundancemtlodge.com

Dedicated to Steve

Dear Pecky

Thanks for writing up the Sundance Mountain Lodge. Steve King was a friend since 1980 when we worked together in a restaurant on Lake Washington.

We lost track of each other during the 90's but a few years ago we bumped into each other at the Issaquah Costco. I was floored when he told me about the Sundance Mountain Lodge!

Building the lodge was a real grind because he and Tony were framing contractors in the Seattle area and they worked on the lodge in their "spare time." Over the course of several visits Stretch and I got to see the progress of the project and Steve's growing enthusiasm. We visited the site last spring and Steve was talking about a soft opening with friends over Thanksgiving. We were disappointed when he told us it probably wasn't going to be ready for that but we knew opening day wasn't far off. Stretch and I haven't been to the lodge yet this year. Steve's untimely death over the winter took the wind out of our sails. Your article is just the kick in the pants we needed to get down there and I encourage all my pals at the lake to do the same. Although you won't get to meet Steve, you'll appreciate the workmanship and love of the area that went into the place and you'll get to meet Tony.
